

There's a New Form Comin' Round!

Have you seen it??

Fannie Mae's website has dedicated a big part of their website to the new 1003. They KNOW this is the biggest change in 20 years and want to ensure YOUR success in 2020 with a smooth transition. Take some time to familiarize yourself with the new 1003 and remember, it is designed to educate the borrower on each section to assist in gathering as much information up front as possible. As the industry is focusing on technology growth, this will more than benefit those that utilize the online application process!

The Build

Your Encompass team will be hard at work over the next several months updating and testing the new loan application so when the FCM GO LIVE date (currently January 2, 2020) comes around, you can feel confident in the changes that will take place.

Training

So Encompass is spoken for, but what about YOU?! Project Management and Compliance have teamed up to deliver all pieces of this puzzle to you. Below you will find a current training timeline through the end of August. This is the first stage of training, relaxed and informational. Buckle up for September through December though, we will be having branch/regional training along with continuing education as 2020 approaches, so it will be fresh on your minds. If you are tired of learning about it, we are doing our job!
