

Lock and Shop Agreement with Float-Down Option

Lock and Shop Definition

A lock and shop interest rate lock period must be locked for a minimum of 60 days and allows the Borrower(s) to lock their interest rate on a mortgage loan for a period of time while shopping for a home. A lock and shop rate lock offers a one-time float-down option, per the fee structure and restrictions below, and is only allowed for purchase loans on standard conforming and government fixed rates of 15, 20, and 30-year terms.

How to Price a lock and shop rate lock with Float-Down option

A lock and shop interest rate lock is priced on the current 60-day pricing. Loans must be locked for a minimum of 60-days and only one 30-day extension will be offered, at a cost of 2 basis points (2bps) per day of the extension period, to a max of 30 days.

Lock and Shop Rate Guidelines and Restrictions:

- Property Address must be a TBD
- Standard Conventional and Government Fixed Rate Products only, no Jumbo loans.
 - Should the loan amount increase over standard conforming and government loan limits, the loan will be repriced at the high balance/jumbo loan at current market price.
- Credit, income, and asset underwriting pre-approval is required to qualify for the lock and shop pricing option.
- The lock and shop option may only be exercised one-time and is not valid until this agreement is signed by all parties.
- The borrower may choose to exercise their float-down option once a purchase contract/agreement has been signed and loan application has been received. If the lock expires or is not closed within 30 days from the time of the float-down, it will be subject to worse case pricing upon relock.
- Only one 30-day extension will be offered at a cost of 2 basis points per day, to a maximum of 30 days. Upon expiration of the extension period, if the loan has not yet closed, the lock will be invalid and will require a new lock, subject to worse case pricing.
- The float-down option may not be transferred to another rate lock, borrower, property, or loan program.
- The renegotiated float-down rate will be based off current 60-day pricing less .500% in pricing. To be eligible for the float-down option, current market rates must have improved in price (current 60-day lock price compared to the 60-day price on the original lock date).
- Increasing my loan size by more than 10% of the original locked-in loan value, may result in market adjustment charges.
- As applicable, Lender pricing credits do not apply and FCM will only improve pricing by improvements to the interest rate at the time of the float-down option.
